

SWTII 19/20 Scrum LEGO Exercise

I like, I wish, I wonder

I like...

- planning was stressy
- Schnick-Schnack-Schnuck Planning
- delegating the work to team members
- improvements in estimations
- LEGO exercise
- getting to know team members
- speed-run Scrum

I wish...

- less interruptions in reviews
- reviews of PO already during Sprint time
- there was more time for review and planning
- I knew what others were working on
- there was reflection on how much was achieved, in order to plan for next time
- More time for planning
- a few minutes with the team before the exercise
- There was space for POs
- There was a space that is suitable for building LEGO

I wonder...

- How to do estimation in little time
- how to interrupt meetings
- how to context switch from PO to dev
- how to precisely state user stories, gain a shared mental model
- how to plan multiple stories effectively
- how to build team spirit
